

SHAH OF PERSIA COMPLIES WITH THE DEMAND OF THE BRITISH MINISTER.

TEHRAN, June 27.—Fearing to become involved in a dispute with England, the Shah, who had complied with the demand of the British minister that he remove his soldiers beyond the legation gates.

The Shah was seeking the arrest of N. Takizadeh, of Tabriz, a member of the parliament and a leader of the Constitutionalists, who had taken refuge in the legation. He placed his soldiers around the legation and made him to examine those who went in and out.

The British minister, incensed at this action, sent word that the soldiers should be withdrawn before 6 o'clock last evening or his government would demand redress. After a consultation with some of his advisers, the Shah acceded to the demand.

The Shah is taking no chances on another uprising of the people of the capital, and though a semblance of order has been restored and business resumed, his soldiers still guard the city, and the least show of opposition is dealt with summarily.

Prince Mirdad-e-Dowlat is acting as governor general of the city. Melli, grand mother of Zahir-e-Sultan, who was unmercifully whipped by the Shah's soldiers at Baghshah, is reported to have committed suicide through grief. Her house was razed by the soldiers.

Following the withdrawal of soldiers from the British legation, the Shah issued a general proclamation of amnesty. It is feared that the declaration of amnesty is only a ruse, and that within a few days, under a guise of legal action, he will begin the punishment of his enemies.

A decree dissolving the parliament and ordering new parliamentary elections has been promised for Sunday.

Settle Macedonian Rule, Plan of England's King

LONDON, June 27.—That England plans an end of Turkish rule in Macedonia, with its long record of murder and outrage, is the information dropped by a member of the foreign office. While the information is in the nature of a "leak," its reliability cannot be questioned.

In the recent meeting between King Edward and Emperor Nicholas at Reval, this subject was discussed and it was agreed that an international understanding with regard to Macedonia, similar to the Algerias agreement in respect to Morocco, was imperative.

The United States will be invited to join with other powers on the initiative of England and Russia, for an early initial conference on the Macedonian question.

It is certain that Germany will oppose the proposed plan. The German empire is none too friendly to England and Russia, owing to her belief that the recent meeting between the rulers of these nations has the further isolation of Germany as one of its objects.

Previous to the meeting at Reval, both King Edward and Emperor Nicholas gave it out that the only matter of state to be considered would be the Macedonia situation. The new developments indicate that this subject was discussed, though whether other political situations were raised is not known.

Turkey Will Resist Release of Macedonia

BERLIN, June 27.—Information received here shows that Turkey will resist with all her might the plan of England and Russia to wrest control of Macedonia from her. Turkey believes France will join actively in support of the Anglo-Russian scheme and she is fearful that the influence of these three will be powerful enough to win.

As a check to the designs of England and Russia, an article pushed in the Porte proposes a series of reforms in Macedonia and suppression of the warring bands that have created so much disorder and distress in that country. To this end, Gen. Ibrahim Pasha has been dispatched to take control of the Macedonian army corps.

WORKERS HONORED AT ST. ALOYSIUS'

Fifty-five promoters were given their diplomas and crosses last night by the League of the Sacred Heart at a special service held in St. Aloysius' Church. Bishop O'Connell, rector of the Catholic University, presided.

Musical was furnished by the chorister choir of the church. Bishop O'Connell made a short address in which he commended the workers in the league, which is sometimes known as the League of Prayer.

He recalled the fact that the league of St. Aloysius has a membership of 2,000, while that of the entire world is 25,000,000. Those who received diplomas and crosses were the Mesdames Forest, A. Stewart, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. W. Moore, and the Mesdames Becker, Josephine Byrne, Margaret Babington, Margaret Curtin, Teresa Cawley, Mary Donohue, Josephine McDonald, Loretto Fitzgerald, Katherine Fennell, Desirée Fennell, Ruth Norris, Margaret McAllister, Regina Watkins, Annie Yeager, Catherine Williams, Anna Burke, Mary Winter, Mary Carmody, Catherine Collins, Nonie Davis, Gertrude Fogarty, Mary Fenell, Anna Krogmann, Gertrude Lane, Leonida Leshner, Frances McEaney, Marie McDonald, Mary Smith, Anna Tobin, Agnes Brozman, Helen Murphy, Mary Burke, Mary Ratney, Nettie Rodloff, Helen Ferguson, Helen Clarke, Marie Rupp, Edith Hupkins, Helen Doherty, Agnes Garner, Mary Cecil, and Mary Costello.

FIVE ANIMALS BORN IN NEW YORK ZOO

NEW YORK, June 27.—There was a record-breaking birth rate at the Central Park Zoo when five little strangers joined the animals there. One of the zebras started things going shortly after 1 o'clock when she presented the zoo with a healthy calf. Half an hour later the nyctagah beat that by twins, male and female, and both healthy. Later there were two fawn deer born.

Within an hour of their birth the little strangers were frolicking around happily.

"The Character of the Happy Warrior," Poem by Wordsworth, Read in Lieu of Eulogy at the Funeral of Mr. Cleveland

Who is the happy warrior? Who is he
That every man in arms should wish to be?
It is the generous spirit who, brought
Among the tasks of real life, hath wrought
Upon the plan that pleased his childish thought:
Whose high endeavors are an inward light,
That makes the path before him always bright;
Who, with a natural instinct to discern
What knowledge can perform, is diligent to learn;
Abides by his resolve, and stops not there.
But makes his moral being his prime care:
Who doomed to go in company with Pain
And Fear and Bloodshed, miserable train!
Turns his necessity to glorious gain;
In face of these doth exercise a power
Which is our human nature's highest dower;
Controls them, and subdues, transmutes, beavers
Of their bad influence, and their good receives:
By objects which might force the soul to abate
Her feeling, rendered more compassionate;
Is placable, because occasions rise
So often that demand such sacrifice;
More skillful in self-knowledge, even more pure,
As tempted more; more able to endure,
As more exposed to suffering and distress;
Thence, also, more alive to tenderness:
Tis he whose law is reason, who depends
Upon that law as on the best of friends;

Whence, in a state where men are tempted still
To evil for a good against worse ill,
And what in quality or act is best
Doth seldom on a right foundation rest.
He fixes good on good alone, and owes
To virtue every triumph that he knows:
Who, if he rise to station of command,
Rises by open terms, or else retire,
And in himself possesses his own desire:
Who comprehends his trust, and to the same
Keeps faithful with a singleness of aim,
And therefore does not stoop, nor lie to wait
For wealth, or honors, or for worldly state;
Whom they must follow; on whose head must fall,
Like showers of manna, if they come at all;
Whose powers shed round him in the common strife,
Or mild concerns of ordinary life,
A constant influence, a peculiar grace;
But who, if he be called upon to face
Some awful moment to which Heaven has joined
Great issues, good or bad for human-kind,
Is happy as a lover, and attired
With sudden brightness, like a man inspired;
And, through the heat of conflict, keeps the law
In calmness made, and sees what he foresees;
Or, if an unexpected call succeed,
Come when it will, is equal to the need:
He who, though thus endowed, as with a sense

And faculty for storm and turbulence,
Is yet a soul whose master-bias leans
To homely pleasures and to gentle scenes;
Sweet images, which, whoso'er he be,
Are at his heart; and such fidelity
It is his darling passion to approve;
More brave for this, that he hath much to love.
Tis, finally, the man who, lifted high,
Conspicuous object in a nation's eye,
Or left unthought-of in obscurity,
Who, with a toward of onward lot,
Prosperous or adverse, to his wish or not,
Plays in the many games of life, that one
Where what he most doth value must be won:
Whom neither shape of danger can dismay,
Nor thought of tender happiness betray;
Who, not content with former worth stand fast,
Looks forward, preserving to the last,
From well to better, daily self-surpassed;
Who, whether praise of him must walk the earth
Forever, and to noble deeds give birth,
Or he must go to dust without his fame,
And leave a dead, unprofitable name,
Finds comfort in himself in the cause:
And, while the mortal mist is gathering, draws
His breath in confidence of Heaven's applause:
This is the happy warrior; this is he
Whom every man in arms should wish to be.

CLEVELAND FUNERAL BRIEF AND SIMPLE

The services were of the simplest order. There was neither song nor instrumental music. At Westland, as at the cemetery, the only music was the singing of the birds. The services were those suggested as fitting by the Presbyterian church, which has no ritual. There consisted only of prayers and reading of portions of the Scriptures. With a poem, "Character of the Happy Warrior," by William Wordsworth, recited by Dr. Van Dyke. The passage from the Bible, which were read were those customarily read at funerals in the Presbyterian church relating to death.

WALKS IN SLEEP OVER HOUSE TOPS

ward, she leaned backward, falling to the gable of the roof.

"Where am I, and how did I get here?" she asked in a dazed manner.

Hess and Clark instructed the girl to walk along the gable to the middle of the roof. There was nothing, however, by which she could hold to keep her way down the roof after she was awake.

Slides Down Roof.

Hess climbed onto a shutter so that his hands projected above the roof. Clark held him from the window so that he would not fall, and Miss Pettit was told to slide down the roof to the blue-cold arms. Hess grabbed her as she slid down, and she was carried to a place of safety.

As a result of her experience, Miss Pettit is confined to her room today, and Miss Thomas denies all callers.

Miss Pettit is suffering from nervous shock, and it was necessary for a physician to remain several hours before he could quiet her.

An examination of the room where Miss Pettit fell developed that she had taken an iron bar which was used to hold her door, and broken every pane of glass in the window. She then raised the lower sash and climbed onto the water spout.

How she managed to get up from falling is a mystery. The climb that Miss Pettit successfully made in her sleep is one that even the most daring steeple-jack would hesitate in making, and eye-witnesses assert that the feat would rival that of the "Human Fly," who scaled the side of the Flatiron building in New York.

Girl Kills Herself Walking in Her Sleep

NEW YORK, June 27.—Mildred, the seven-year-old daughter of Lloyd Makepeace, a lawyer, living on the fifth floor of the apartments at 45 Manhattan avenue, was found dead at the bottom of the air shaft beneath a window at 4:30 o'clock this morning.

The child and her mother slept near the window. Mrs. Makepeace awoke, and missing her daughter, first searched the apartment, and then went to the window. At the bottom of the air shaft she saw the body.

Dr. Krunwilde, of 10 Manhattan avenue, said the child had been dead for some time as its body was cold. It is supposed she fell out of the window while walking in her sleep, as the sills are very low.

Mrs. Makepeace and his family came to New York recently from Malden, Mass. He has an office at 35 Congress street, and is now on his way back from a trip to Europe.

REWARD IS OFFERED FOR TRAIN WRECKERS

Erie Official Convinced That Accident in Ohio Was Due to Miscreants.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 27.—A reward of $500 was today offered by H. O. Dunkle, general superintendent of the Erie railroad for the apprehension of persons he declares guilty of causing the wreck at Mantua, Ohio, last night.

Erie flyer No. 13, running fifty miles an hour, was thrown down a three-foot embankment, Engineer Charles S. Symonds, was killed and six persons were injured. Dunkle's investigation has satisfied him the wreck resulted from misplacement of rails, or obstruction on the track. The engine ploughed over the ties 200 feet and then plunged down the embankment. The combination baggage coach and smoker followed.

The last car, a Pullman coach, filled with passengers stopped at the edge. Engineer Symonds remained at his post while the train took the wild flight and was crushed to death.

PRINCE DE SAGAN TO RETAIN FAITH

LONDON, June 27.—Prince Helle de Sagan denied today that he will adopt the Protestant religion before his marriage to Mme. Anna Gould.

"It will not be necessary for me to change my religion," he said today.

"Madame Gould and I will return to France after our wedding and I certainly will feel more comfortable in my native country than I retain my old faith."

The tentative date of the wedding is July 7. There will be both a civil and a church ceremony.

CARSON IS VICTIM OF "STEAM ROLLER"

Cut of $600 Within Year Leaves Him With Watchman's Job at $600.

"Col." Perry H. Carson again is a victim of the District "steam roller." The Commissioners today announced the appointment of the "colonel," as watchman in the new Municipal building at $600 per annum. Heretofore, the "colonel" has occupied the position of janitor of the District building at $800, his salary having been reduced from $1,200 to that sum within the last year. Now, by the action of Capt. William Kelly and Edwin Markham the "colonel" is to be separated from another $300.

The "colonel" is understood, was a candidate for the position of chief watchman, at $1,000 per annum. The Commissioners saved only an appropriation of $200 for this position, but the Senate increased the amount to $1,300, which was reduced by the House to $1,000, and thus included in the bill. It may have been that this generous action on the part of Congress was the result of activity on the part of the "colonel's" friends.

If this be so, a serious error was made in failing to conduct the campaign to the doors of the Assistant Engineer Commissioners. Those unfeeling officials accepted the offer of Carson, but as announced in The Times a few days ago, conferred the position upon J. J. "Merrill," a member of the Army and Navy, who served as a member of President Roosevelt at San Juan Hill.

"Colonel" Carson has announced that he will not accept the job of watchman. Like all good politicians, he says nothing, but there is a glimmer in his eye which indicates that he is saving wood. Those in the know aver that this end is not yet.

Other appointments are announced as follows:

Assistant chief watchman, at $600 per annum, J. Harry Colquhoun; watchmen at $600 each, W. J. La Roche, Franklin Eld, and S. I. Lewis.

The appointments are made for a period of three months, at the end of which time the job of watchman will be re-opened. Under the same conditions, C. S. Travers, P. Webb are appointed skilled laborers at $500 each, and John W. Cooper and W. F. Honeaty, as chief cleaners at $500 each.

OPENINGS PLANNED AT SUMMER HOTELS

Large Crowds Expected at Lake George and Lake Champlain This Summer.

Visitors to the beautiful Lake George and Lake Champlain sections of the coming summer are promised the best of hotel accommodations by the officials of the Delaware and Hudson railroad, who are personally supervising the management of both the celebrated Lake Champlain Hotel on Lake Champlain and the Hotel William Henry Hotel on Lake George.

These houses are both owned by this corporation and several hundred thousand dollars have been spent in improving and refurbishing the hostelrys. These lakes form two of the most beautiful scenic spots in all America, and the hotels have always been noted for the select class of their patronage, and with the magnificent improvements that the railroad has made on both hotels and their surroundings, they will be a charming resort center during the coming summer.

The railroad has secured the services of Robert Murray of the celebrated Flager line of hotels in Florida, as manager of the Champlain, and J. F. Nelson of the same capacity at the Hotel William Henry.

The beautiful motor trips to all parts of the Mohawks, the delightful excursions on the lakes, the attractive social life, golf tournaments, tennis events, etc., make a summer in these sections a most delightful period of recreation.

Both of these hotels open for the season July 1, and are on the main line of the Delaware and Hudson railroad.

PANIC IN PRISON CAUSED BY A DOG

Bloodhound, Kept to Track Fugitives, at Bay in Cell After Wounding Two.

MT. HOLLY, N. J., June 27.—Becoming suddenly vicious early this morning, "Teddy," the bloodhound confined in the jail yard, attacked William Sweeney, a "trustee," and it was with difficulty that the man escaped serious injury. When the dog jumped at Sweeney's throat he caught it by the back of the neck and dragged it to the back house, where companions opened the door, and he escaped, leaving a field in full possession of the yard, where it was master of the situation all the morning. Several men finally got the animal into a cell downstairs, where it now is confined. The animal, which was presented to the jail by Assemblyman Macleach, is afraid of dogs.

During the past four days Teddy has bitten two persons connected with that institution. Because of his disposition to jump at the throat of those who go near him all persons entering the yard carry some sort of weapon. He is three years old, and is a very vicious animal. Every day, Sheriff Norcross is afraid to let him out of the dungeon for fear that he will kill some one. It has practically been decided that Teddy must be shot for the safety of those connected with the jail.

NAVY MEN ALARMED; RETIREMENT FEARED

Fate of Fourteen Rests With Admirals' Board, Which Will Decide July 1.

Many naval officers are awaiting with much apprehension the report of the Board of Rear Admirals, which will designate those selected for enforced retirement in order to shave down the "humps" caused by the congestion of officers in certain grades.

The retiring board will make its report July 1. According to the present vacancies, fourteen officers will be cut off the active list if no applications are made for voluntary retirement. Some applications have been handed in, but as they cannot be made in public until July 1, none but the members of the board know how many there are.

It is not thought likely there will be fourteen seeking retirement, so that some officers, willing or unwilling, will have their naval careers ended, and there are many minds ill at ease awaiting the fateful decree.

WALK 100 MILES FOR EMPLOYMENT

Parents Take Babies on Long Trudge, and Find Friends in the Police.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., June 27.—William McFarlan, thirty-seven years old, an iron worker, his wife, a few years younger, and their two children, a boy of seven, and a girl of three years, reached Schenectady this morning, footsore and weary, having walked the entire distance of more than 100 miles, from New York. The little girl rode in a baby carriage, wheeled by the father, but for the greater part of the distance the boy, a plucky little fellow, walked.

McFarlan says he had been unable to procure work at his trade. He had formerly lived in Rochester and he decided to return here.

They started on their long tramp on Sunday, July 14. Farmers along the road frequently gave them food and lodging, but McFarlan said that in all the villages and towns they passed, they had been jeered and hooted and laughed at.

In this city they were fed and furnished with clothing by sympathizing merchants, and the police gave them railroad transportation as far as Utica.

DASHED TO DEATH ON HIS LOCOMOTIVE

PITTSBURG, June 27.—Traveling at fifty miles an hour, train No. 19, on the Erie railway, struck a broken rail three miles west of Garrettsville, Ohio, at 7:50 o'clock last night and the rail at a point where there is an embankment twenty-five feet high.

Charles F. Symonds, fifty-two years old, engineer, Cleveland, was killed. The injured are G. J. G. Freeman, Cleveland, broken wrist; J. H. Neese, express messenger, crushed by baggage falling on him; condition serious; Fred Brand, Cleveland, leg crushed by Smith, cut by glass.

When the engine hit the defective rail it bounded over the embankment, taking Engineer Symonds with it. Freeman leapt was thrown forty feet into a field.

The baggage car, day coach, diner, and parlor car left the rails, but did not go over the embankment.

W. T. VERNON DENIES HITCHCOCK FIGHT

W. T. Vernon, register of the Treasury, is out with a statement denying that the influential colored men of the Republican party were working against the selection of Frank H. Hitchcock as chairman of the national committee.

"All those with whom I have talked are taking no part in the matter," he said today.

CLEMENTS PLAYS A WAITING GAME

SUPERIOR, Wis., June 27.—Fred Gilmore, of Chicago, fought a bloody ten-round draw with Joe Clements, of Superior, here last night.

Gilmore had the best of the mill on points, but in the later rounds Clements had his man hanging on and waiting for the bell. The fight was a spectacular affair, and much enthusiasm was shown.

LAFAYETTE STATUE RAISED IN PARIS

PARIS, June 27.—Artistic Paris today is singing the praises of Sculptor Paul Bartlett, the American, whose statue of General Lafayette has just been placed on its pedestal in the Place du Louvre.

A few days ago Bartlett threatened to delay the raising of the statue on account of large payments still due him for his work. He instructed his lawyers to bring suit against the statue committee, but in the later rounds Clements had his man hanging on and waiting for the bell. The fight was a spectacular affair, and much enthusiasm was shown.

The statue, which cost $120,000, was raised by the school children of America.

MAN FOUND DEAD; GAS JET WAS OPEN

John A. Sheedy Retired in Good Spirits, and Sister's Family Find Corpse.

John A. Sheedy, twenty-three years of age, employed as a car cleaner by the Pullman Company, was found dead in bed this morning at his home, 323 Second street northeast. Gas was flowing from a jet near the head of the bed.

Sheedy appeared to be in good spirits yesterday. He spent the evening with friends, returning home after other persons in the house had retired. It is believed that in putting out the light he accidentally turned the thumbcrew too far.

Sheedy's parents are both dead, and for several months he had lived at the home of his sister, Deputy Coroner Glazebrook investigated the case before issuing the necessary death certificate.

THAT GEORGE; ASKS JURY TRIAL

Cannot Be Restrained as Insane Without Sanity Inquiry, He Says.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 27.—A. Russell Peabody, counsel for Harry K. Thaw, today obtained a new writ of habeas corpus for Thaw, returnable at White Plains at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning. The new writ which demands a trial by jury, was signed by Justice Mills at Troy.

Justice Morschauser this morning signed the necessary papers remanding Thaw back to Matteawan, but the new writ will act as a stay, and Thaw will remain in jail here. He will be taken to White Plains Monday morning.

The point raised is that Thaw, after acquittal could not lawfully be restrained of his liberty as an insane person without proceedings in lunacy, in which he would be entitled to have the issue of his sanity determined by jury. "I can convince any jury that I am sane," said Thaw today. "Mr. Peabody will make every effort to obtain a trial of me by jury, and I am perfectly satisfied that a body of carefully selected jurymen will pronounce me sane and give me freedom."

The Thaw family has retained Charles Morschauser, a brother of Supreme Court Justice Morschauser, also of Poughkeepsie, to head the array of Thaw lawyers, who will appear at White Plains Monday. It is said that Attorney Morschauser will present the argument for the jury trial for Thaw.

GIRL OF 14 WED TO HUSBAND 59

READING, Pa., June 27.—Jacob Klink, aged fifty-nine, an ash cart driver, who has acquired quite a competency, and who several years ago married a fifteen-year-old girl who promptly obtained a divorce, has come into the limelight again by taking as his third wife, Emma Lutz, aged fourteen.

They were married in Wilmington. Klink is the father of several children, all living, the youngest of whom is a girl, aged three, named after her mother. Friends of the bride's family say she is only twelve years old. According to Klink, he and the girl were accompanied by her father and sister when wedded.
